Confession Clears Man In Murder

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (UPI) — A young airman, who has been in jail the past seven months on charges of slaying a neighbor's wife and son, will be freed next week because another man has confessed to the crimes.

Elmore County authorities announced yesterday they will seek dismissal Monday of first degree murder charges against Gerald M. Anderson, 24, who was jailed last April.

Sheriff Earl Winter said authorities became convinced that Anderson was innocent of the rape-murder of Mrs. Nancy Joy Johnson, 22, and the slaying of her 2-year-old son, Daniel, on the basis of a confession made earlier this week by Theodore Thomas Dickie 21.

Dickie, who has confessed the rape-murder this month of a 10-year-old girl, told authorities in nearby Boise, he also killed Mrs. Johnson and the boy on April 9.

Anderson was arrested the day after the double slaying and he later signed a statement admitting the killings. He told United Press International early this week that the confession was written by Air Force investigators and that he signed it under stress.

"I hoped for a break," he said, "that they would catch the person. I just waited, biding my time. I was hoping for this."

Several days after his arrest, Anderson confessed. He explained his confession: "After eight days of day and night questioning, I just gave up trying to argue. I quit. Life was no good. Nobody helped me. They said I did it. I said I didn't do it. They said I would get only a couple years in a hospital if I would say I did it. I was at a point that if they told me I was Mena Lisa, I would have believed it." The Air Force has refused to comment on his charges.

The case had almost been forgotten when the confession was made. (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

The youth, Bruce A. Gentner, 20, of 1926 Summit Ave., Oakford, was said to be "still the same" by a hospital spokesman. His cousin, William A. Gerstadt, 21, of 4734 Marple St., Philadelphia, was listed in good condition early today.

Thomas Calogero, 19, of Floral Park, N.Y., a sailor stationed with the U.S. Naval Base in Philadelphia, died 30 minutes after the car in which he and two companions were riding hit an embankment and flipped over twice on Old Lincoln Highway, Middletown Township.

The accident happened at 12:46 a.m. yesterday, after an early-morning 95-mile-an-hour police chase.

Calogero was the 44th auto fatality in Bucks County this year. A total of 35 had died on the highways during the same period last year.

Gerstadt, driver of the convertible car, suffered head injuries in the accident. Upon Gerstadt's release from the hospital, Middletown police will charge the driver with involuntary manslaughter, reckless driving, speeding and going through a stop sign.

Auto accidents getting nearly as bad, right here in Lower Bucks County. We begin to fear motorists just won't ever get any sense.

Well, you've got to admit that every traffic accident is the result of somebody's sheer stupidity.

But look: With the holiday season here with its hurry and excitement that will increase as the weeks go on, can't all of us be more thoughtful and slow up a bit on the streets and highways?

Lovely day for antics of the gridiron beef.

And you know something? The Eagles are going to be feeling real good tomorrow evening. We've got the confidential word that they'll explode all over the Cowboys and make wish they'd never left Texas.

Did you ever figure out how rich you'd be if you really profited by all of your mistakes?

Bachelors are people who consider a wedding ring a vicious circle.

All right, have a happy weekend and enjoy yourself. But watch your driving, please?

Go to church tomorrow.

Prospects for hiring extra help in local post offices during the Christmas season appeared dim today as most postmasters disclosed they will hire less help than in previous years. At least one exception was that of the Levittown Post Office which will hire about 12 more temporary employees than last year.

The reason for the reduction of additional employees, however, was not because of any anticipated decrease in mail, it was pointed out. In fact postmasters agreed that mailings would be heavier than in previous years in keeping with past experience of

Driver Faces Charges

Auto Strikes Two Cornwells Teeners

Two Cornwells Heights teenagers were struck by a car last night while walking along Street Road west of Richlieu Road in Bensalem Township.

The two girls, who were taken by Bensalem Rescue Squad to Lower Bucks County Hospital, are Joyce Grauer, 15, of 1716 Street Road, and Helen Kemper, 15, of 1664 Street Road, both Cornwells Heights.

One Admitted
A hospital spokesman said Miss Grauer was admitted and today (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7) has only approved the hiring of 16 extra employees.

Mail Breakdown
A breakdown of New York and Pennsylvania mail was another reason given. Layton said such mail would be sent to Jenkintown for a secondary breakdown, thereby requiring the use of less help at the Langhorne office.

In Morrisville, the post office did not plan to hire any additional help since the Trenton Post Office has taken on some of the duties previously handled by Morrisville.

3 Cars In 3 Days

16-Year-Old Held In Theft Of Autos

A 16-year-old Croydon youth, with an apparent flair for stealing Chevrolets, today is in custody of Tullytown Borough police charged with the theft and larceny of automobiles.

The youth was apprehended yesterday by Bristol Township police after a three-day spree in which he allegedly stole three cars, including his father's.

The youth, a tenth grade student at Delhaas High School, was caught at 3:30 p.m. by Patrolman Frank Moffett in a chase across a field at Franklin D. Roosevelt Junior High School on Rodgers Road.

Tullytown Police
He was turned over to Tullytown police since two of the cars he reportedly stole — both Chevrolets — were taken while parked in the Levittown Shopping Center. He also told police he took his father's car and nearly wound up in the Neshaminy Creek as he drove the auto off the road near the Pennsylvania Turnpike bridge.

Fire Causes $1,300 Loss
Fire caused by frying pan grease which spilled over a stove, caused an estimated $1,300 in damage to the kitchen of a Levittown home last evening.

Firemen of Levittown Fire Co. No. 2 were called to extinguish the blaze at 5:15 p.m. at the Rancher-type home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Briding, 46 Rose Arbor Lane, Red Cedar Hill.

Lt. Thomas McGinn of the fire company said that one of the Bridings' two daughters, Joyce, 18, was making French fries in the kitchen when grease spilled over the pan and caught fire.

Briding and his two other daughters, Donna, 15, and Cathy, nine, were in the living room of the house at the time. Mrs. Briding was at a neighbor's home.

Briding said that Harry Forsythe, a neighbor across the street, rushed over upon seeing the flames and aided in containing the blaze until firemen arrived.

The fire burned curtains in the kitchen and charred portions of the walls and ceiling.

The Levittown - Fairless Hills Rescue Squad treated Mrs. Briding for shock after she returned home.

Red China Pushes Terms

NEW DELHI (UPI) — U.S. and British missions talked with Indian defense officials today and Red China began a new propaganda campaign to force acceptance of its terms for ending the border war.

British Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys arrived today to join the British team. Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman heads the U.S. mission.

"The purpose of my visit is simple," Sandys said. "It is to find out what Britain can do to help India at this time of difficulty and danger."

India continued to move troops up to the threatened state of Assam to establish a new defense line against the Communists despite the uneasy truce proclaimed by Peking. There was no official word here that the Chinese were carrying out a similar buildup, although Indian officials have been quick to report such moves in the past.

Communist Chinese broadcasts heard in Tokyo showed both an attempt to try to force India to the conference table and increasing signs of nervousness at the speed and scope of western aid to India.

Wants Pressure Applied
Chinese Premier Chou En-lai sent out appeals to Britain's Lord Bertrand Russell and Guinean President Sekou Toure, urging them to pressure India into negotiating under the unfavorable terms set out by the Chinese.

Peking also appeared to be building up its case for a resumption of the fighting. It gave detailed reports of the arrival of the Harriman aid mission, and it (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

Birthday Turns Sad
Charles O'Hara of 41 Old Brook Road, Orangewood, Levittown, was all set to celebrate his seventh birthday today when he received the bad news.
His mother called the Courier-Times today to explain, "His bike was stolen."
Mrs. Dorothy O'Hara estimates it was stolen last night between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. because he had left it parked on the sidewalk near the driveway at his home.
She said her daughter, Terry, age 8, had also parked her bicycle at the spot, when she last saw them at 5:30 p.m. After dinner, Mrs. O'Hara went out again at 6:30 p.m. and her daughter's bike was still there but the boy's was stolen.
Anyway, Charles' birthday today will be a much happier one if someone will call him and let him know if they find a red, 24" Roadmaster bicycle. Please call Charles at WI 6-4977. Mrs. O'Hara said.

Midwest's 1st
Heavy Snow
Takes 8 Lives

By United Press International
The Midwest's first heavy snow storm of the season blew itself out as it reached the Great Lakes early today, but not before it played a role in eight deaths.
A wide band of snow was dumped across South Dakota through Minnesota into Michigan. Michigan counted five dead in weather-related traffic accidents, Minnesota two and Wisconsin one.
The heaviest snowfall was eight inches at Willmar, Minn. Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., coped with a 5-inch fall.
The storm left four inches of snow at Eau Claire, Wis., and Menominee and Stevenson, Mich., and Deadwood, S.D. Watertown, S.D., received three inches as did Wausau, Wis., and 2-inch falls were deposited at Lemmon and Aberdeen, S.D.
Light snow fell early today from Michigan into western New York state. Elsewhere generally fair skies were predicted for today.
Warmer temperatures were expected today from the Rocky Mountain region into the Midwest, with cooler readings on tap from Texas through the Ohio Valley.

Parking Lot
Work Delayed

Reported Stolen
The car had been reported stolen at 2:25 p.m. Tuesday by William C. Murphy Jr. of 172 Pennypacker Drive, Levittown, N.J.
The youth said he drove around the rest of the day and night and drove around the area all day Wednesday.
On Thanksgiving Day, the youth told police he continued to ride around in the car until it got a flat. He said he spent Thursday night sleeping in a Goodwill Industries collection box in front of a store on Route 413.
Yesterday the youth reportedly stole another Chevrolet from the Levittown Shopping Center about 2 p.m.
Bristol Township police received a call at 3:23 that he was at the Route 413 store. Patrolman Moffett said that the youth jumped into the driver's seat of the stolen car upon the officers' arrival. Seconds later, however, the boy jumped out and ran across the field of the FDR School. Moffett gave chase on foot, then got into the police car and drove around the other side of the field where he cut the youth off and placed him under arrest.

Postponed
The binding and sealing the parking areas and filling the numerous deep pot-holes in front of the Levittown station was to have begun Tuesday.
Despite the delay to await the advertising and awarding of bids, SEAPAC officials are hopeful of completing most of the work before "Operation Levittown" begins Dec. 3.

Church Plans
News Agency

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council today considered the possibility of setting up an international Catholic news agency in an attempt to counteract "erroneous reports" about the Catholic Church.
This was one of the suggestions before the council fathers in their study of mass communications, including the press, radio, television and films. The discussion, which began Friday, resumed in St. Peter's Basilica this morning.
Another suggestion heard by the council was the establishment of Catholic press offices on an international, national and local basis. At present, the Vatican does not have—and never has had—an "official" news office where information is readily available.
The draft on mass communications was worked out by a preparatory secretariat headed by Msgr. Martin J. O'Connor, of Scranton, Pa., rector of the North American College in Rome.

gotten until Dickie, of Boise, told a radio newsmen that he could clear Anderson. "I know because I killed both the woman and the kid," Dickie said.
Anderson said today he hoped to get an honorable discharge from the Air Force and move to California and learn a trade. He is married and has three small children.
ence M. Mulligan said his office will hire about the same number of men as last year, but that even then no additional men were used on the street. Mulligan said somewhere between 20 and 25 extra men would again be used, but that despite the anticipated increase in mails, this number would do.

Post Offices

While the Levittown Post Office will hire about a dozen extra men because it is not handling New York mail for some 250 post offices, Postmaster John McLaughlin said that all the extra help would probably come from civil service. Last year, he said, the Levittown office hired 59 additional employees.
McLaughlin, as well as the other postmasters, agreed that any extra help hired would first come from the civil service list and that at this time they believed there are enough applicants on that list who are available.

Space Rendezvous
In April Ruled Out

HOUSTON (UPI) — Space officials ruled out a possible rendezvous in space between Gordon Cooper's capsule and another vehicle in a scheduled day-long orbital flight, the astronaut said Friday.
Cooper said Project Mercury officials considered the rendezvous idea, but said it appeared definite that such an attempt would not be part of his flight next April.
Cooper will eat, sleep and take a longer look at the world than his five American predecessors in space had time to do. The flight probably will mark the transition from Project Mercury into Project Gemini. The ultimate end of Gemini will come when two manned vehicles lock together in space.
"Planning is constantly going on (in Project Mercury) but it doesn't look like any type of rendezvous will be attempted this time," Cooper said. "No, there will be no rendezvous on this flight."
Other experiments have been planned for Cooper to do while in orbit.
Cooper will be the fourth American to orbit the earth. Alan Shepard, the first astronaut to make a suborbital space shot, will be Cooper's backup pilot.
Some of Cooper's chores for the 24-hour flight include:
—Releasing a five-inch ball with flashing lights to determine how far a person can see in space. This should be useful in rendezvous missions.
—Inflating a balloon behind the spacecraft in flight to measure drag or air friction at the orbital altitude. Scott Carpenter tried this on his three-orbit flight but the balloon did not inflate fully.
—Testing a new fuel system for the control unit which will cause a change in the capsule's flight attitude.
—Photographing out the spacecraft's window with special film. Astronaut Walter Schirra started this during his six-orbit flight.

Minister's Marriage
Faces Many Obstacles

HENDERSON, Tex. (UPI) — Flora Jean Cole, 16-year-old choir girl, may marry the minister she ran away with.
But first he will have to serve 90 days in jail, pay a $500 fine for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and get a divorce from his present wife.
The Rev. Leroy Daniels, 26, stood quietly Friday and heard County Judge Charles Lankford sentence him on his guilty plea.
"In my estimation, there is hardly any crime greater than contributing to the delinquency of a minor," Lankford said. The court session lasted only five minutes.

Red China

has warned India many times in recent days against accepting U.S. weapons.
There were two indications here Friday night that an early end to the conflict is not in sight, despite the ceasefire.
Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, in a message read at a youth rally here, said India's struggle with China would be long. In an oblique reference to the ceasefire, he said "we must not imagine the struggle will be over soon because of various diplomatic moves."
Indians Hold Position
The other indication came from K.K. Shah, general secretary of Nehru's Congress party, who said there was "no change" in India's stand that the Chinese must return to the positions they held before Sept. 8. The Peking conditions for new talks call for a withdrawal to the more forward positions the Reds held Nov. 7.
In Rawalpindi, Pakistan, President Mohammed Ayub Khan's brother, a leading politician in his own right, demanded that Pakistan withdraw immediately from the South East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) and improve its relations with Communist China.
Sardar Bahadur Khan did not link his demand with Pakistani objections to Western aid to India.

K's Backdown
May Backfire

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Kennedy administration is seeking to exploit the broader peace possibilities of its Cuban victory without raising false hopes that the end of the cold war is in sight.
Officials acknowledge this is a delicate task. Without discounting the importance of the Soviet retreat in the Caribbean, some officials are beginning to fear the public may have been oversold on its possible long range significance.
This could backfire against the administration if Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, after reviewing his strategy, turned tougher than ever on Berlin and other critical issues. Or it could play into the Soviet leaders hands if — as many authorities believe — he launches a new "peace offensive" to take advantage of American complacency and potential differences among the allies.
Cleveland Issues Warning
A top administration spokesman in a speech in Philadelphia Friday night issued the first clear-cut public warning on this score.
Assistant Secretary of State for international Affairs Harlan Cleveland said that any assumption that Khrushchev's backdown in Cuba heralded the beginning of a general retreat and earlier return to "normalcy" was nothing but "bottled-in-bond mythology."
His remarks appeared to be addressed to the more extravagant journalistic interpretations of recent developments as the beginning of the end of international communism's expansionist efforts.
Cleveland said the problem was that when administration officials speculated on a possible "turning point" or "watershed in world affairs" ... people immediately jumped to the conclusion that we shall wake up some fine Friday morning and discover that the horrors and threats and sweat and struggles of the past decade and a half were no more than bad dreams ... His speech, before the council for Social Studies, was the first full dress presentation by a high official since Kennedy disclosed Khrushchev's agreement to pull his jet bombers out of Cuba.

Beauty Show
Ends Tonight

SHILLINGTON, Pa. (UPI) — Misses Delaware County, Butler County and Beaver County won in the evening gown, talent and sportswear competition, respectively, Friday night in the semifinals of the Pennsylvania Junior Miss Pageant.
The trophy winners, Ellen Louise Essaf of Glen Riddle, Carole Ann Smith of Butler and Eleanor Kay Shenesky of Coppel were among 25 high school seniors from all over the state competing in the pageant which ends Saturday night with the crowning of a queen for the national finals in Mobile, Ala., next March.
Miss Shenesky won the talent judging by reciting her composition on world peace.
Thirteen of the contestants competed in the evening gown and sportswear category with 12 taking part in the talent division. The groups will reverse the procedure Saturday night before a final choice is made.
Discounts Complete Reversal
Cleveland said, as the President had last Tuesday, that the way might now be open for some progress on other East-West issues. But he warned against expecting a complete Russian turnaround. He said he would expect any change more likely would be a gradual "moving in the direction of peace through complex forms of cooperation."
Kennedy himself acknowledged that it was impossible at this time to tell just what the possibilities were. He held out the hope that the Cuban experience plus obvious troubles between Russia and Red China might eventually force a more reasonable Moscow approach on Berlin and other issues. But he said only time could tell.
